GEORGE F. STEWART

PUBLICATIONS

2. Stewart, George F. April 1940. Freeze up cheap spring eggs. Farm Science Reporter. 3 pages.

5. Stewart, George Franklin, and Frank E. Mussehl. 1941. The recovery of by-products from poultry evisceration wastes. Journal??? pg. 450-453. (received for pub 2/19/41)

14. Lowe, B., and G.F. Stewart. 1946. Dried eggs. (3 pages of mimeographed material but no reference to where published, etc.)

31. Stewart, George F., and Emil M. Mrak. eds. 1948. Advances in Food Research I.

33. Stewart, George F., and Emil M. Mrak. 1949. eds. Advances in Food Research II.

37. Stewart, George F., and Emil M. Mrak. eds. 1951. Advances in Food Research III.

43. Stewart, George F., and Emil M. Mrak. eds. 1953. Advances in Food Research IV.

52. Stewart, George F., and Emil M. Mrak. eds. 1955. Advances in Food Research V.

54. Stewart, George F., and Emil M. Mrak. eds. 1956. Advances in Food Research VI.

56. Stewart, George F., and Emil M. Mrak. 1957. Advances in Food Research VII.

75. Stewart, George F. July 1960. Chemicals in food. Chemistry is responsible for producing many of the good qualities we expect and get in the food on our tables. California Monthly. 4 pages.

Miscellaneous Attached items:

Eggs. Flyer and Teacher's Handbook: Encyclopaedia Britannica Instructional Film.

Evaluation of consumer acceptance studies on beef. George F. Stewart and Emil M. Mrak.

Three years of cooperative research on dried eggs. George F. Stewart.

Comparative and complementary effects of heat treating and oiling shell eggs on their keeping quality. S. Bose and George F. Stewart. pages 228-234.